Checklist: Administrative Aspects after the Birth

What parents must do after the birth – the most important facts at a glance

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>WHO AND WHEN?</th>
<th>WHAT?</th>
<th>WHERE? WHERE TO GO FOR HELP?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A parent with custody (in many cases this is done by the birthing clinic)</td>
<td>Registering the child with the registry office (Standesamt). It will issue the birth certificate. Note The registry office will automatically register the child with the residents’ registration office (Einwohnermeldeamt).</td>
<td>The registry office (Standesamt) responsible for the child’s place of birth Note The documents required depend on marital status and nationality. Please ask the responsible registry office.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| Mother | Reporting the birth | Employer/company where mother is in training/university or school Note This notification can be done orally or in writing.
- Students are allowed to return to school or university during this protected period if they expressly want this and make a statement saying so. |
| One parent | Applying for family health insurance for the child Note You will need a copy of the child’s birth certificate. | The mother’s or father’s health fund (Krankenkasse) Note
- If one parent has private health insurance while the other has statutory health insurance, consult with the latter.
- If the child is to be insured through the unmarried father’s health fund, you will need to show the acknowledgement of paternity. |

Note: This checklist is designed to provide a general overview of the administrative aspects parents need to consider after the birth of a child in Germany. Actual procedures may vary depending on individual circumstances and local regulations. It is advisable to consult with local authorities or a legal advisor for specific guidance.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>WHO AND WHEN?</th>
<th>WHAT?</th>
<th>WHERE? WHERE TO GO FOR HELP?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Mother, if she wishes to go on parental leave (Elternzeit) right after her maternity protection period (Mutterschutz)
No later than seven weeks before the end of the maternity protection period | Notifying the employer about the intention to take parental leave (Elternzeit)
Note When you apply for parental leave, you have to specify what periods you want to take off until the child’s 2nd birthday. If you want to work part-time during your parental leave, it is best to apply for this straight away too. | The mother’s employer
Note This notification must be done in writing; you can find a template
Tip Send your notice via registered mail (make a copy of the documents for your own records first). |
| Father, if he wants to take parental leave (Elternzeit)
No later than seven weeks prior to the desired start date
Note If the father wants to take parental leave right after the birth, he must register for parental leave no later than seven weeks prior to the expected due date. He is protected from dismissal as of eight weeks prior to his parental leave. | Applying for parental leave
Note When you apply for parental leave, you have to specify what periods you want to take off until the child’s 2nd birthday. If you want to work part-time during your parental leave, it is best to apply for this straight away too. | The father’s employer
Note This notification must be done in writing; you can find a template
Tip Send your notice via registered mail (make a copy of the documents for your own records first). |
| Parents who predominantly look after their child themselves and are therefore not working full time
As soon as the birth certificate is available | Parental allowance / parental allowance plus (Elterngeld/ElterngeldPlus)
Note You can only claim parental allowance if you live in the same household as the child. | Bundeselterngeldkasse
Materials to download (bmfsfj.de):
“ElterngeldPlus with partnership bonus and more flexible parental leave” |
| One parent
As soon as the birth certificate is available | Applying for child benefit (Kindergeld)
Note Instead of child benefit you could receive tax allowance for dependent children. The family benefits section of the employment office (Familienkasse) will work out what is more tax efficient. | The family benefits section of the employment office (Familienkasse, Agentur für Arbeit) |
| One parent
As soon as the birth certificate is available | Applying for tax allowance for a dependent child | Tax office (Finanzamt) |
WHO AND WHEN?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>One parent, if the parents are on low income</th>
<th>Parents who want to have a care placement for their child</th>
<th>Parents with custody if they want to travel abroad with the child</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>As soon as the birth certificate is available</td>
<td>As soon after the birth as possible</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

WHAT?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Potentially applying for additional child allowance (Kinderzuschlag)</th>
<th>Applying for a care placement</th>
<th>Applying for a child’s passport</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

WHERE? WHERE TO GO FOR HELP?

| The family benefits section of the employment office (Familienkasse, Agentur für Arbeit) | Youth welfare office (Jugendamt)
Tip It is best to seek advice on this matter from a youth welfare office prior to the birth. | Residents’ registration office (Einwohnermeldeamt) |
Note You will need your child’s birth certificate. |

---

The Federal Office for Migration and Refugees provides information about pregnancy, parenthood and family issues online: www.bamf.de/EN. It also offers a search engine for counseling services nearby. The website is available in several languages.